

Q) Create a simple cloud software application for car booking Reservation system using any cloud service provider.

Ans: The procedural steps for creating a cloud software application for "car booking Reservation system".

1. choose a cloud provider:-

There are different cloud provider such as AWS, Microsoft Azure, and Zoho. From these providers I have chosen zoho cloud provider.

2. create an account:-

After chosen zoho as cloud provider now create a free account init so that we can access the cloud services of zoho.

3. select one Application:-

Select creator and enter the application name as the "car booking" system.

4. create new application:-

Different types of templates are already available we can choose from they or we can create a new template according to the topic.

5. select one form:-

We need to choose any one of the existing form which will be comfortable for the development of application.

Software has been created:-

After choosing the form we can edit the form according to the application such as adding any extra features and removing unwanted features and finally click if has been created.

Result :-

The final result of the application is the data which were entered by the user were able to see in a certain order.
